

With the Stars and Bars that never saw defeat, and is the chosen emblem of the Daughters of the Confederacy, the battle-flag of the Confederate veterans and the red and white colors of the Lost Cause waving a welcome, Richmond has made ready for the great Confederate Reunion, the convention of the Southern Confederate Memorial Association, and the unveiling of the Jefferson Davis monument.

At Camp John W. Gordon, on West Broad Street, the tented city has been made ready to receive the veteran hosts of this week.

Avoid the general stir and preparation that is pervading all Richmond, the local chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, Hollywood and Oakwood Memorial Associations, and the Juniors of both organizations, together with the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, as hostesses of this memorable gathering, are very busy people indeed.

The first social event of the week will be the reception at Lee Camp Hall Wednesday evening from 8:30 to 11 o'clock, under the auspices of Richmond Chapter, to all Confederate organizations, visiting and local.

A number of distinguished Confederate women will stand in the receiving line on that evening, among them Mrs. Margaret Howell Jefferson Hayes, daughter of President Davis; Miss Mary Curtis Lee, daughter of General Robert E. Lee; Mrs. Thomas J. Jackson, widow of General Stonewall Jackson; Mrs. J. E. B. Stuart, widow of General Stuart; Mrs. Lizzie George Henderson, president-general of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; Mrs. W. J. Behan, president of the Confederate Memorial Association; Mrs. George S. Holmes, president of the Jefferson Davis Monument Association; Mrs. W. J. Mahone, Miss Daisy Hampton, Mrs. Lucy Lee Hill Magill, Mrs. W. R. McKenny, Mrs. Thomas Beckett, and others.

Mrs. Robert S. Christian, chairman of committee of arrangements, will be assisted by Mrs. Stephen Beveridge and Mrs. E. C. Richardson, of the decoration committee, and the young members of Richmond chapter who will serve.

It is hoped that Hon. John Goode, of Virginia, will respond to the urgent invitation of Richmond Chapter and attend the reunion celebration, he being an honorary member of Richmond Chapter.

Friday afternoon, May 31st, from 5 to 7, a reception will be tendered reunion visitors by the Confederate Memorial Literary Society, at the Confederate Museum. The officers of the society will receive with the visiting regents of the different rooms at the Museum. The entertainment will be an all fresco affair, will be largely attended, and will be one of the handsomest and most important of the week's entertainments.

Saturday evening, from 8:30 to 10 o'clock, Governor and Mrs. C. A. Swanson will hold an official reception at the Executive Mansion, to which reunion visitors are cordially invited.

The ball to the sponsors and maids of honor will be given at the Horse Show Building Friday evening next, and will be very brilliant. Among those of those to attend will be Misses Eva Comer, of Birmingham, Ala.; Julia Fulton Williams, of Yazoo City, Miss.; Amy McKee Werth, of Richmond, Miss. Frances Key Duke, of Louisville, Ky.; Miss Sallie Person, of Jackson, Tenn.; Miss Agnes Winchester, of Fort Smith, Arkansas; Misses Ruth Mitchell and Elizabeth Fleming, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Miss Julia E. Rogers, of New Orleans; Miss Lucy Atkinson McIlwaine, of Petersburg; Miss Grace Ratcliff Day, of Smithfield, Va., and many others.

An unusual feeling of sentiment marks out this reunion of 1907. It falls during the tercentenary celebration of the settlement of Virginia and of the United States. It marks the completion of work begun years ago, in which the heart and energy of the entire Southland has been engaged, and it will also mark, on Thursday, May 30th, the unveiling of the Stuart Monument by the Veteran Cavalry Association of the Army of Northern Virginia.

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Gude announce the engagement of their daughter, Eva May, to Mr. Walter T. Kelley. The marriage will take place on June 12th, at St. Mary's German Catholic Church. There will be no cards.

In Honor of Bride-to-Be.

The Sans Souci Club, of Winchester, Va., entertained at a beautifully appointed luncheon in the club parlor on Tuesday last in honor of Miss Virginia Cabell Baker, whose marriage to Mr. Peter Vredenburg, of New York, takes place on Saturday next. Covers were laid for ten, and toasts to bride were drunk with much ceremony.

Pupils' Recital.

The following selections were played by pupils of Mr. Hahn at the last two class recitals in his studio, May 19th and 25th, viz:

"Traviata," Fantasy.....Verdi-Dorn
Miss Charlotte Bemiss,
"Last Hope".....Gottschalk
Miss Elsie Ingram,
"Serenade".....Schubert-Liszt
Miss Linda Beveridge.

Correct Corseting

is absolutely essential to fashionable costuming. Then see to the corset first, and, would you have the latest and most approved in design, obtain the celebrated

American Lady Corset

It represents "Style Perfection." The new models embody every dictate of Fashion, and convey to the figure the long, slender, graceful lines, demanded by the present modes.

Wear the American Lady corset, and you have not only superior style, but also perfect quality and fit. Among the innumerable models, there is just the model for your individual figure.

Of Interest Here.

The marriage of Miss Georgiana Randolph Harrington to Mr. William C. Whittle, which took place Thursday afternoon in Warrenton, Va., is of great interest to a large circle of friends in Richmond, the bride having frequently visited Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Carter here. Mrs. Whittle has only recently returned from a visit to relatives in London, England.

Mr. Whittle is of most distinguished Virginia ancestry, and is related to many Richmond people. He is the son of Mr. William C. Whittle, vice-president of the Norfolk Land and Trust Company. He is also a great nephew of Bishop Whittle and a nephew of Judge Stafford G. Whittle, of the Supreme Court of Appeals. His maternal grandfather was the late General E. L. Page, first cousin of General Robert E.

"The Chisel." The latest issue of "The Chisel," the quarterly publication of the Woman's College of Richmond, is full of bright, attractive bits of fiction, gay little verses and more serious studies of literary periods and tendencies. Miss Pearl Smoot and Miss Pearl Lichtenstein contribute two attractive short stories with love as their theme and wedded bliss as their conclusion.

"The Gypsies," an unsigned article.

MISS EVA COMER.

Sponsor of the South for the Sons of Veterans at the approaching Confederate Reunion. Miss Comer is the daughter of Governor Braxton B. Comer, of Alabama, and is one of the handsomest and most charming young women in the South.

and "The Realistic Novel," by Miss Florence E. Kersey, both trace the evolution of a literary epoch, in well-defined steps and in clear, well-balanced sentences.

"A Stream of Golden Light" is a poetic little sketch by Miss Luemina Lee Carter, and shows a power of imagination and a felicity of expression that are far beyond the average student.

Of the poetry Miss M. S. Clendenen's "The Maskers" is attractive in metre and diction, and expresses a real thoughtfulness of mind.

All the departments, especially "The Books of the Hour" and the Almanac Department, are well conducted and up to the usual standard.

Association Delegates.

The Junior Hollywood Memorial Association has elected Miss Mary Baughman and Miss Liza Townes as delegates to the Confederate Southern Memorial Association, which convenes next Thursday in the Second Baptist Church. Misses Eliza Cooke and Caroline Kidd were appointed alternates.

The association has requested the school children of the city to send flowers and designs to be used in the Confederate officers' section at Hollywood on Memorial Day.

It is hoped that each school will contribute at least one design. Flowers should be sent by 2 o'clock Thursday morning to the office at Hollywood

Unequalled Savings in This Early Clearance Sale of Tailored Suits

Suits That Have Merit and Reductions That Are Not Fictitious.

Lack of Sunshine caused this early and phenomenal sale of Suits—for, though business has been good, we have not sold nearly as many as we would like. To mend matters we have inaugurated this splendid sale, with its remarkable savings. The true worth of the garments involved should not be gauged along with the prices, as the actual value and former selling price, in many instances, more than doubles that asked during this clearance sale.

The tags attached to every suit have the old and sale prices plainly marked for your inspection.

As there is only a limited number of suits at each price the early buyers will receive the best values.

Family Reunion.

The Rev. Dr. J. William Jones has been spending the past week at Duck-roe Beach attending the North American Baptist Convention and visiting his son, the Rev. Dr. E. Pendleton Jones.

A delightful family reunion was the result of the gathering of Dr. Jones and his four sons, who are all ministers. They are the Rev. Carter Holm Jones, D. D., of Louisville; the Rev. H. L. Jones, of Chattanooga, Tenn.; the Rev. M. Ashby Jones, D. D., of Columbia, Ga., formerly of Richmond, and the Rev. E. Pendleton Jones, D. D., of Hampton.

Mrs. Ashby Jones and Mrs. Pendleton Jones were also in the party, who enjoyed a most pleasant week.

Awakening of Forest Hill.

The bright moonbeams danced in unison Thursday night with the merry laughter of the overjoying and delighted audience which witnessed the production of three witty plays, given by the members of the Forest Hill Park Civic League.

The laudable efforts of the would-be Langfords, Russells, Booths, Jeffersons, and other sylvan Sarah Bernhards, were a living evidence of the cultured histrionic talent of their able manager and copartner.

Among those who took part in the plays were Mrs. Hurt, Mrs. Watson, Mrs. de Tarnowsky, Miss McRae, Miss Patterson, Miss Gregory, Mr. Richmond Minor, Mr. Lyons and Mr. Patterson.
